Investments under the Portfolio in the Securities of the Associates or Related Parties or group companies will be subject to the limits prescribed under Agreement executed with the respective Client and the same would be subject to the Applicable Laws from time to time.

6. Risk Factors

- 6.1. Securities investments are subject to market and other risks and the Portfolio Manager provides no guarantee or assurance that the objectives set out in this Disclosure Document and/or the Agreement shall be accomplished.
- 6.2. The value of the Portfolio may increase or decrease depending upon various market forces and factors affecting the capital markets such as delisting of Securities, market closure, relatively small number of scrips accounting for large proportion of trading volume. Consequently, the Portfolio Manager provides no assurance of any guaranteed returns on the Portfolio.
- 6.3. Past performances of the Portfolio Manager do not guarantee its future performance.
- 6.4. The Client stands a risk of loss due to lack of adequate external systems for transferring, pricing, accounting and safekeeping or record keeping of Securities. Transfer risk may arise due to the process involved in registering the shares, physical and demat, in the Client's name, while price risk may arise on account of availability of share price from stock exchanges during the day and at the close of the day.
- 6.5. Investment decisions made by the Portfolio Manager may not always be profitable.
- 6.6. Investments made by the Portfolio Manager are subject to risks arising from the investment objective, investment strategy and Asset allocation.
- 6.7. The market prices of the Securities in the Portfolio may be volatile and may not truly reflect its fundamental or intrinsic value due to the lack of sufficient liquidity for those Securities.
- 6.8. Equity and Equity Related Risks: Equity risk is the risk that one's investments will depreciate because of stock market dynamics causing one to lose money. Equity instruments carry both company specific and market risks and hence no assurance of returns can be made for these investments. While the Portfolio Manager shall take all reasonable steps to invest the Funds in a prudent manner in such Securities, such decisions may not always prove to be profitable or correct. Consequently, the Client shall assume any loss arising from such decisions made by the Portfolio Manager.
- 6.9. Derivative Instruments Related Risks: Derivative products can provide disproportionate gains as well as disproportionate losses to the client. Execution of such strategies depends upon the ability of the Portfolio Manager to identify such opportunities. Identification and execution of the strategies to be pursued by the Portfolio Manager involve uncertainty and decision of Portfolio Manager may not always be profitable. No assurance can be given that the Portfolio Manager will be able to identify or execute such strategies. Derivative products are specialised instruments that require investment techniques and risk analysis different from those associated with stocks and bonds. The risks associated with the use of derivatives are different from or possibly greater than, the risks associated with investing directly in Securities and other traditional investments. Other risks include risk of mispricing or improper valuation and the inability of the derivative to correlate perfectly with underlying assets, rates and indices, illiquidity risk whereby the Portfolio Manager may not be able to sell or purchase derivative quickly enough at a fair price.

- 6.10. Macro-Economic risks: Overall economic slowdown, unanticipated corporate performance, environmental or political problems, changes to monetary or fiscal policies, changes in government policies and regulations with regard to industry and exports may have direct or indirect impact on the investments, and consequently the growth of the Portfolio.
- 6.11. Liquidity Risk: These are considered to be safe in terms of protecting the capital as compared to other type of investment. But there is an inflation risk associated with these types of investments. If the rate of returns doesn't match or beat the inflation rate, there is no use in investing in debts funds or instruments. Liquidity of investments in equity and equity related Securities are often restricted by factors such as trading volumes, settlement periods and transfer procedures. If a particular security does not have a market at the time of sale, then the Portfolio may have to bear an impact depending on its exposure to that particular security. While Securities that are listed on a stock exchange generally carry a lower liquidity risk, the ability to sell these investments is limited by overall trading volume on the stock exchange. Money market Securities, while fairly liquid, lack a well-developed secondary market, which may restrict the selling ability of such Securities thereby resulting in a loss to the Portfolio until such Securities are finally sold. This risk is higher under the Services since the Portfolio Manager may invest in unlisted Securities. Even upon termination of the Agreement, the Client may receive illiquid Securities and finding a buyer for such Securities may be difficult. Further, different segments of the Indian financial markets have different settlement periods, and such periods may be extended significantly by unforeseen circumstances. Delays or other problems in settlement of transactions could result in temporary periods when the Assets are uninvested, and no return is earned thereon. The inability of the Portfolio Manager to make intended Securities purchases, due to settlement problems, could cause the Portfolio to miss certain investment opportunities.
- 6.12. Credit Risk: Debt Securities are subject to the risk of the issuer's inability to meet the principal and interest payments on the obligations and may also be subject to the price volatility due to such factors as interest sensitivity, market perception, or the credit worthiness of the issuer and general market risk.
- 6.13. Interest Rate Risk: This is associated with movements in interest rates, which depend on various factors such as government borrowing, inflation, economic performance etc. The value of investments will appreciate or depreciate if the interest rates fall or rise. Fixed income investments are subject to the risk of interest rate fluctuations, which may accordingly increase or decrease the rate of return thereon. When interest rates decline, the value of a Portfolio of fixed income Securities can be expected to rise. Conversely, when interest rates rise, the value of a Portfolio of fixed income Securities can be expected to decline.
- 6.14. Acts of State, or sovereign action, acts of nature, acts of war, civil disturbance are extraneous factors which can impact the Portfolio.

- 6.15. Non-Diversification Risk: This risk arises when the Portfolio is not sufficiently diversified by investing in a wide variety of instruments. As mentioned above, the Portfolio Manager will attempt to maintain a diversified Portfolio in order to minimize this risk.
- 6.16. Mutual fund risk: The level of risk in a mutual fund depends on what it invests in. Usually, the higher the potential returns, the higher the risk will be.
- 6.17. In case of investments in mutual fund units, the Client shall bear the recurring expenses of the Services in addition to the expenses of the underlying mutual fund schemes. Hence, the Client may receive lower pre-tax returns compared to what he may receive had he invested directly in the underlying mutual fund schemes in the same proportions.
- 6.18. After accepting the Funds for management, the Portfolio Manager may not get an opportunity to deploy the same or there may be delay in deployment. In such situation the Clients may suffer opportunity loss.
- 6.19. Volatility risk: Volatility refers to the dynamic changes in price that Securities undergo when trading activity continues on the stock exchange. Generally, higher the volatility of Security, greater is its price swings. There may be normally greater volatility in thinly traded Securities than in active Securities. As a result of volatility, orders may only be partially executed or not executed at all or the price at which the order gets executed may be substantially different from the last traded price or change substantially thereafter, resulting in notional or real losses.
- 6.20. Risk of wider spreads: Spread refers to the difference in best buy price and best sell price. It represents the differential between the price of buying a Security and immediately selling it or vice versa. Lower liquidity and higher volatility may result in wider than normal spreads for less liquid or illiquid Securities. This in turn will hamper better price formation.
- 6.21. System risk: High value trading will frequently occur at the market opening and before market close. Such high volumes may also occur at any point in the day. These may cause delays in order execution on confirmation. Under certain market conditions, it may be difficult or impossible to liquidate a position in the market at a reasonable price or at all, when there are no outstanding orders either on the buy side or the sell side or if trading is halted in a security due to any action on account of unusual trading activity or stock hitting circuit filters or for any other reason.
- 6.22. System or network congestion: Trading on exchange is in electronic mode, based on satellite or leased line based communications, combination of technologies and computer systems to place and route orders. Thus, there exists a possibility of communication failure or system problems or slow or delayed response from system or trading halt or any such other problem whereby not being able to establish access to the trading system/ network, which may be beyond the control of and may result in delay in processing or not processing buy or sell orders either in part or in full. The Client is cautioned to note that although these problems may be temporary in nature, but when the Client has outstanding open positions or unexecuted orders, these represent a risk because of obligations to settle all executed transactions.

6.23. The Portfolio Manager is a newly incorporated entity and does not have any prior experience

6.24. The Group Companies of the Portfolio Manager do not have any conflict of interest

6.25. All transactions of purchase and sale of Securities by portfolio manager and its employees who are directly involved in investment operations will be disclosed if found having conflict of interest with the transactions in any of the client's portfolio.

13. Taxation

13.1. The information furnished below briefly outlines the tax regulations which may be relevant to the Clients and is based on relevant provisions of the Income Tax Act, 1961 ("IT Act").

The Finance Act, 2023, has provided an option to individuals and HUF for payment of taxes at the following reduced rates from assessment year 2024-2025 and onwards:

Type	Old Regime			New Regime
	<60 Yrs	60 – 80 Yrs	>80 Yrs	All Age Groups of Individuals

13.2. The summary provides general information on Indian income tax implications but is neither intended to be a complete discussion of all tax implications, nor does it purport to be a complete description of all potential tax costs, tax incidence and risks inherent on the acquisition, ownership, and sale of Indian Securities.

- 13.3. In addition, the comments herein are not binding on the Indian tax authorities and there can be no assurance that the authorities will not take a position contrary to any of the comments herein. It is emphasized that neither the Portfolio Manager nor any other Person involved in the preparation of this Disclosure Document accepts responsibility for any tax effects or liabilities resulting from the purchase, ownership, or disposition of the Indian Securities. Prospective Clients should consult their own tax advisors concerning their individual tax consequences of their particular situations.
- 13.4. The Portfolio Manager does not make any representation regarding any legal interpretations. Since the information below is based on relevant provisions as of February 2023, any subsequent changes in the said provisions could affect the tax benefits.
- 13.5. General Taxation: The basis of charge of Indian income-tax depends upon the residential status of the taxpayer during a tax year, as well as the nature of the income earned. The Indian tax year runs from April 1 until March 31. A Person who is an Indian tax resident is liable to taxation in India on his worldwide income, subject to certain tax exemptions, which are afforded under the provisions of the IT Act. A Person who is treated as non-resident for Indian income-tax purposes is generally subject to tax in India only on such Person's India sourced income.
- 13.6. Section 90(2) of the IT Act provides that where the Government of India has entered into an agreement with the Government of any country outside India or specified territory outside India (where the taxpayer is a resident) for granting relief of tax or avoidance of double taxation, the taxpayer may opt to be taxed as per provisions of the IT Act or the tax treaty or Double Taxation Avoidance Agreement ("DTAA"), whichever is more beneficial.
- 13.7. This Disclosure document does not discuss the tax implications applicable to the non-resident Clients under a beneficial DTAA (Section 90(2) of the IT Act), which would need to be analysed separately based on the specific facts.
- 13.8. The Indian Government has deposited the ratified Multilateral Instrument ("MLI") to implement tax treaty related measures to prevent Base Erosion and Profit Shifting ("BEPS") on 25 June 2019 with Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development ("OECD"). India has notified 93 (ninety three) tax treaties in its ratification and accordingly, India's tax treaties with such countries will include MLI provisions with effect from 1 April 2020.
- 13.9. This chapter does not discuss the impact of MLI on the claim of beneficial tax treatment under DTAA by a non-resident Client. The same would need to be analysed separately based on the specific facts, where applicable. Further, the tax rates mentioned herein are exclusive of applicable surcharge and cess, unless specified otherwise.

13.10. Taxation of individual income component: Tax implications of the following income received by certain categories of Clients from investments in Securities as per IT Act are discussed as follows:

a) Dividend Income:

For Financial Year 2023-2024 dividend will be taxed in the hands of shareholder at effective slab rates applicable to the client.

- i. For resident shareholder: 10% (ten per cent) (no surcharge and cess applicable) (TDS withholding under Section 194/194K);
- ii. For non-resident shareholder: 20% (twenty per cent) (plus surcharge and cess) under Section 115A subject to any beneficial rate available under the applicable tax treaty.

The new regime also proposes to levy TDS at the rate of 10% (ten per cent) on the income paid by a specified company or mutual funds units to its resident shareholders or resident unitholders if the amount of such income exceeds five thousand rupees in a Financial Year. However, no tax shall be required to be deducted by the mutual fund on income which is in the nature of capital gains.

Deduction under Section 57: The Finance Act, 2020 allowed deduction of interest expense incurred while earning the dividend income. The expense allowance is restricted to 20% (twenty per cent) of the dividend income without deduction under Section 57. The expense allowance is not a standard deduction per se and the shareholder or unitholder would need to establish and demonstrate that interest expense was actually incurred for the purpose of earning the dividend income. Further, it may be noted that interest expenditure is not likely to be allowable in the year when no dividend income is received by the shareholder or unitholder. Hence, in case of NIL dividend income, the expenditure may not be allowable.

Roll over benefit: Section 80M of the IT Act provides for benefit of roll-over of deduction for the dividend received by a domestic company from another domestic/overseas company or a business trust (Real Estate Investment Trust/Infrastructure Investment Trust). Accordingly, where a corporate domestic client is receiving dividend from a domestic/overseas company or a business trust, such client shall be eligible for deduction of tax paid on dividend income received ('roll-over benefit under Section 80M') on further dividend distributed by them to their shareholders. This is done to avoid cascading effect of taxation on the same dividend income.

b) Gains from sale of Securities- Characterization of income: Gains arising from the sale of Securities in India (shares, derivatives etc.) may be taxed as Capital Gains ("CG") or Business Income ("BI") under the provisions of the IT Act, depending on the facts and circumstances of the case.

Characterization of income arising from the sale of Indian Securities has been the subject of legal debate. The CBDT issued circular No. 4/2007 dated 15 June 2007 outlining certain judicial principles pronounced by various courts on the determination of whether shares are held as stock-in-trade or held as investments. The circular states that no single principle is determinative and that the specific facts and circumstances of each case are required to be considered in order to make a determination of whether the shares held would be regarded as stock-in-trade or investment.

The nature of income from the disposal of Securities will be classified as CG or BI depending on whether the investments are held as assets, investments with the object of capital appreciation or stock in trade for the purpose of trade or adventure.

The following conditions are to be generally considered for determining the nature of such income:

- i. The motive of the entity is to earn profits through dividends, or from capital appreciations.
 - ii. The substantial nature of transactions, the manner of maintaining books of accounts, the magnitude of purchases and sales and the ratio between purchases and sales.
 - iii. Intent of the assessee as is evidenced by the documents/records.
 - iv. Whether the charter documents authorize any such activity.
 - v. Volume, frequency, continuity, and regularity of transactions of purchase and sale.
- c) While the above discussion is predominantly in the context of transactions related to shares, on principles it could equally apply even to derivatives. Therefore, in the context of derivative transactions, given the short duration and nature of the transactions it is likely that the transaction would be considered as giving rise to BI rather than income from CG.

Furthermore, the CBDT has provided further guidance on the matter vide circular No. 6/2016 dated 29 February 2016 as follows:

- i. Where the taxpayer opts to treat listed shares and Securities as stock in trade, the income arising from transfer of such shares/Securities would be treated as its BI.

- ii. If the taxpayer desires to treat income arising from the transfer of listed shares and Securities held for more than 12 (twelve) months as CG, the same shall not be disputed by the tax officer. However, such a stand adopted by the assessee will remain applicable in subsequent assessment years also and cannot be altered.
 - iii. In all other cases the nature of the transaction shall continue to be decided basis the facts of each particular case.
- d) The above referred circular applied to listed shares and Securities. Therefore, in order to bring parity in taxability of income/loss arising from transfer of unlisted shares the CBDT issued circular No.225/12/2016 dated 2 May 2016 determining the tax treatment of income arising from transfer of unlisted shares for which no formal market exists for trading.

CBDT vide this circular clarifies that income arising from transfer of unlisted shares would be considered under the head CG, irrespective of period of holding with a view to avoid disputes/litigation and to maintain a uniform approach.

However, CBDT carves out three exceptions wherein this clarification shall not apply, namely:

- i. genuineness of transactions in unlisted shares itself is questionable;
- ii. transfer of unlisted shares is related to an issue pertaining to lifting of corporate veil; and
- iii. transfer of unlisted shares is made along with the control and management of underlying business.

Thus, it is important to clearly understand the intent of issue of the aforesaid circulars by CBDT from time-to-time and to interpret in a rational manner where gain arising from the sale of Securities should be classified under the head CG or BI.

- e) Capital Gains: As per Section 45 of the IT Act, any profits or gains arising from the transfer of capital assets are chargeable to income-tax under the head 'capital gains'. Section 48 of the IT Act provides that income chargeable as CG is the difference between the full value of the consideration received or accrued on the transfer and the cost of acquisition of such asset plus expenditure in relation to such transfer (indexed in case the shares, being listed shares are held for more than 12 (twelve) months and purchased in INR). Unlisted shares if not held for more than 24 (twenty four) months will be a short term capital asset and therefore not eligible for indexation.

The sale of Securities would be taxed as under in the case of resident Clients.

Type of gain	Period of Holding	Tax rate
Short term	12 (twelve) months for equity shares	20% (twenty per cent) in case of equity shares or units of an equity-oriented fund listed on any recognized stock exchange in India and the sale is chargeable to Securities Transaction Tax ("STT"). (with effect from 23rd July, 2024) Ordinary rate of tax applicable to the respective Clients i.e. at the rate up to 30% (thirty per cent) for corporate Clients, 30% (thirty per cent) for partnership and limited liability partnerships and at the applicable slab rates for individual Clients in case of shares that are not listed on any recognised stock exchange in India and in case of listed shares being sold/ transferred in a transaction not chargeable to STT.
Long term	More than 24 (twenty four) months for shares	12.5% (twelve one-half per cent) in case equity shares Further, LTCG shall be chargeable only in case where the capital gain exceeds INR 1,25,000 (Indian Rupees One Lakh Twenty Five Thousand only). (with effect from 23rd July, 2024)

Gains on sale of Securities would be taxed as under in the case of non-resident Clients

Type of gain	Period of Holding	Tax rate
Short term	24 (twenty four) months for equity shares	20% (twenty per cent) in case of equity shares or units of an equity-oriented fund listed on any recognized stock exchange in India and the sale is chargeable to STT. (with effect from 23rd July, 2024) Ordinary rate of tax applicable to the respective Clients i.e. at the rate of 40% (forty per cent) for corporate Clients, 30% (thirty per cent) for partnerships and at the applicable slab rates for other non-corporate Clients in case of shares that are

		not listed on any recognized stock exchange in India and in case of listed shares being sold/ transferred in a transaction not chargeable to STT.
Long term	More than 24 (twenty four) months for shares	12.5% (twelve one-half per cent) in case equity shares are listed on any recognized stock exchange in India and the purchase and sale transaction of such equity shares is chargeable to STT. 12.5% (twelve one-half per cent) (in case equity shares listed on any recognised stock exchange but transaction of sale/transfer not chargeable to STT (without giving effect to first and second proviso to Section 48) Gains on the sale of shares of unlisted companies are subject to tax 12.5% (twelve one-half per cent) (without giving effect to first and second proviso to Section 48)

- f) Business Income: As discussed above, the gains on sale of derivative contracts in the futures segment should generally be characterized as BI and the same would be taxable at the rate up to 30% (thirty per cent) or other ordinary applicable rate.

However, where the derivative contracts are entered into by a person, are settled otherwise than by delivery of transfer of the shares, it may be classified as speculative income, which is a special class of BI (this class of BI cannot set off losses from nonspeculative income streams and loss can be carried forward only for 4 (four) years).

However, where the derivative contracts are entered into electronically through a broker/sub broker on a stock exchange, where the broker provides a time stamped contract note, with the PAN of the client thereon, then the income will not be considered as speculative income.

Where the Portfolio Manager adopts certain strategies (say 'Long Short') which involves simultaneous purchase/sale of Securities and derivative products, it might be possible that the tax authorities could construe the same as "trading income" and tax it as business income (i.e., at higher tax rates).

- g) Interest Income: Classification of interest income is a matter of dispute with contradicting judicial precedents. Whether interest income would be assessable as business income or income from other sources would depend upon the nexus it has with the assessee's business. Interest income is taxable at the ordinary rate of tax applicable to the respective Clients i.e., up to the rate of 30% for Indian resident corporate Clients, 30% (thirty per cent) for partnerships and at the applicable slab rates for individual Clients.

In case where the listed debt Securities (including zero coupon bonds) are transferred, any gains derived from such transfer shall be taxed up to the rate of 30% (thirty per cent) as short-term capital gains where the period of holding is 12 (twelve) months or less and at the rate of 10% (ten per cent) as long-term capital gains where the period of holding is more than 12 (twelve) months.

Income-tax provisions applicable to Non-residents in respect of receipt of income from fixed Income products are summarized below:

The payor is required to withhold the applicable taxes. No deduction shall be allowed against this income under Section 28 to Section 44C or Section 57(i) or 57(iii) or Chapter VI-A. - ii. In terms of Section 115AC of the IT Act, income of non-resident by way of interest on bonds of an Indian Company issued in accordance with the notified scheme i.e. 'Issue of Foreign Currency Exchangeable Bonds Scheme, 2008'/'Issue of Foreign Currency Convertible Bonds and Ordinary Shares (Through Depository Receipt Mechanism) Scheme, 1993/ Depository Receipts Scheme 2014' or on bonds of public sector company sold by the government and purchased by the client in foreign currency or income by way of dividends on GDR or income by way of long term capital gains arising on transfer of above bonds or GDR's, will be taxed at the rate of 10% (plus applicable surcharge health and education cess) subject to tax treaty benefit, if any. The payor shall withhold applicable taxes.

Further, as per the Finance Bill, 2022, the surcharge for tax on all form of long term capital gain shall be capped to 15% (fifteen percent).

The Finance Act, 2023 has mentioned that the rate of surcharge shall be capped @ 25% (twenty five percent) for persons opting for the new tax regime.

Tax Collected at Source

With effect from 1 October 2020, where the seller of goods receives any amount as consideration for sale of goods of the value exceeding INR 5 million, such Seller is required to collect from Buyer a sum equal to 0.1% of the sale consideration, exceeding INR 5 million. This shall not be applicable in case Buyer is liable to deduct taxes at source from the payments made to the Seller and has deducted such amount.

Seller for the purpose of TCS provisions under Section 206C(1H) of the ITA has been defined to mean a person whose total sales, turnover or gross receipts exceeds INR 100 million during the financial year immediately preceding the financial year in which sale of goods is carried out.

'Goods' for the purpose of TCS provisions could include shares and Securities. There are currently alternative interpretations of the applicability of TCS to transactions in Securities including qualifying criteria for a seller.

The CBDT, vide circular no. 17 of 2020 (dated 29 September 2020), has carved out certain transactions wherein the provisions of section 206C(1H) of the ITA shall not apply. This inter alia includes transactions in Securities and commodities which are traded through various recognized stock exchanges or cleared and settled by the recognized clearing corporation, including recognized stock exchanges or recognized clearing corporation located in International Financial Service Centre.

Accordingly, where transactions in Securities and commodities are traded through recognized stock exchanges, the provisions of section 206C(1H) shall not apply.

Tax Deducted at Source (TDS) under section 194Q

With effect from 1 July 2021, a buyer while making payment to resident seller on purchase of goods having value exceeding INR 5 million during the financial year is required to withhold tax at the rate of 0.1% under Section 194Q of the ITA.

'Buyer' for the purpose of Section 194Q is defined as a person whose total sales, gross receipts or turnover from the business carried on exceeds INR 100 million during immediately preceding financial year in which the purchase of goods is carried out.

'Goods' for the purpose of section 194Q could include shares and Securities. There are currently alternative interpretations of the applicability to transactions in Securities including qualifying criteria for a "Buyer".

CBDT has also issued a clarificatory circular no. 13/2021 dated 30 June 2021 to address various issues in relation to the applicability of Section 194Q. As per the said circular, no TDS u/s 194Q shall apply in case of transactions in Securities and commodities which are traded through recognized stock exchanges or cleared and settled by the recognized clearing corporation including recognized stock exchanges or recognized clearing corporations located in IFSC. This is in line with the CBDT circular issued in the context of Section 206C(1H).

Accordingly, where transactions in Securities and commodities are traded through recognized stock exchanges, the provisions of section 194Q shall not apply in the hands of buyer.

Further, TDS under Section 194Q shall not be applicable where the buyer is a non-resident and the purchase of goods is not effectively connected to its permanent establishment in India (if any).

Withholding of tax at higher rate

As per Section 206AA of the IT Act, where a recipient of income (which is subject to withholding tax) does not furnish its Permanent Account Number ("PAN"), then tax is required to be deducted by the payer at the higher of the following i.e., (i) rates specified in the relevant provisions of the IT Act; (ii) rates in force; or (iii) at 20% (twenty per cent) or 5% (five per cent) in case of withholding of tax under Section 194Q. In case of non-residents not having a PAN, this provision requiring tax deduction at a higher rate shall not apply if they furnish certain prescribed information/documents (including their tax residency certificate).

Accordingly, in case of recipient who do not have a PAN, tax shall be withheld at a minimum rate of 20% (twenty per cent) or 5% (five per cent) for TDS under Section 194Q, except in case of non-resident Clients who furnishes certain prescribed information or documents (including their tax residency certificate) are provided by such Clients being non-residents.

Separately, under Section 206AB of the IT Act, where the recipient (other than a non-resident not having a permanent establishment in India) has not filed its income tax return for two financial years preceding the relevant financial year and such recipient has suffered withholding tax or tax has been collected from such recipient of an amount aggregating to INR 50,000 (Indian Rupees Fifty Thousand) or more in each of the last two financial years, then except in case of certain specified payments, tax shall be withheld at higher of the following rates:

- i. twice the rate provided under the IT Act; or
- ii. twice the rate or rates in force; or
- iii. the rate of 5%.

Further, where the recipient has neither furnished its PAN (which entails withholding of tax at minimum of 20% (twenty per cent) or 5% (five per cent), as the case may be, under Section 206AA) nor filed its tax return for last two Financial Years, tax shall be withheld at higher of the rates under both the provisions.

Under the Finance Bill 2022, it is proposed to amend the provisions of Section 206AB to provide that higher withholding tax rate shall apply only in case of persons (other than a non-resident not having a permanent establishment in India) who has not filed its income tax return for the immediately preceding Financial Year for which the time limit under Section 139(1) has expired, and such recipient has suffered withholding tax or tax has been collected from such recipient of an amount aggregating to INR 50,000 (Indian Rupees Fifty Thousand) or more in the relevant preceding year.

Deemed income on investment in Securities

In terms of Section 56(2)(x) of the IT Act, if Securities are received for less than the fair market value of the Securities (computed as per prescribed rules), the difference between the price paid and fair value if above Rs 50,000 (Indian Rupees Fifty Thousand) then it shall be deemed as ordinary income of the recipient.

Separately, if shares other than quoted shares are transferred for less than the fair value of the shares (computed as per prescribed rules), the fair value of such unquoted shares shall be deemed to be the sale consideration for the seller, for computing its capital gains for Indian tax purposes.

“Quoted share” means the share quoted on any recognised stock exchange with regularity from time to time, where the quotation of such share is based on current transaction made in the ordinary course of business.

Bonus Stripping

According to Section 94(8), in case of units purchased within a period of 3 (three) months prior to the record date (for entitlement of bonus units) and sold or transferred or redeemed within 9 (nine) months after such date, the loss arising on transfer of original units shall be ignored for the purpose of computing the income chargeable to tax. The loss so ignored shall be deemed as cost of acquisition of such bonus units.

General Anti-Avoidance Rules (GAAR)

The Finance Act, 2012 had introduced General Anti-Avoidance Rules (“GAAR”) into Act, which, subsequent to the amendments introduced by the Finance Act, 2015, has come into effect from April 1, 2017.

As per the provisions of IT Act, Indian tax authorities have been granted wide powers to tax 'impermissible avoidance arrangements' including the power to disregard entities in a structure, reallocate income and expenditure between parties to the arrangement, alter the tax residence of such entities and the legal situs of assets involved, treat debt as equity and vice versa. The GAAR provisions are potentially applicable to any transaction or any part thereof.

The term 'impermissible avoidance arrangement' has been defined to mean an arrangement where the main purpose is to obtain a tax benefit, and it:

- a. Creates rights, or obligations, which are not ordinarily created between persons dealing at arm's length;
- b. Results, directly or indirectly, in the misuse, or abuse, of the provisions of the IT Act;
- c. Lacks commercial substance or is deemed to lack commercial substance; or
- d. Is entered into, or carried out, by means, or in a manner, which are not ordinarily employed for bona fide purposes.

Further, an arrangement shall be presumed, unless it is proved to the contrary by the taxpayer, to have been entered into, or carried out, for the main purpose of obtaining a tax benefit, if the main purpose of a step in, or a part of, the arrangement is to obtain a tax benefit, notwithstanding the fact that the main purpose of the whole arrangement is not to obtain a tax benefit.

In case the GAAR is applied to any transaction pertaining to the Fund, it could have an adverse impact on the taxability of the Fund and/ or its Clients and hence, impact the returns to the Clients.

It is provided that GAAR shall not apply, inter alia, to arrangements where the aggregate tax benefit in a relevant year, to all the parties involved, does not exceed INR 3,00,00,000 (Indian Rupees Three Crores).

Other applicable taxes

Wealth tax has been abolished by the Finance Act, 2015.

Securities Transaction Tax ("STT") - As discussed above the concessional rate for short term capital gains and long term capital gains would be applicable only if the sale/transfer of the equity shares takes place on a recognized stock exchange in India. All transactions entered on a recognised stock exchange in India will be subject to STT levied on the transaction value at the applicable rates.

The rates of STT are as follows:

Sr. No.	Nature of taxable Securities	STT Rates %	Payable by
